

SENATOR STEWART'S VIEWS.

The Necessary Legislation on the Water Question

As there seems to be some difference of opinion relation to Senator Stewart's views on the water question, an APPEAL representative recently secured a synopsis of his remarks and resolutions which are here given.

The Senator said that the irrigation law of the last session of Nevada Legislature was sufficient for all purposes except one. It contained a proviso denying the right to condemn existing water rights. Under such circumstances he said that it was necessary to purchase all existing water rights by agreement with the parties in order to put the law in practical operation. He offered a resolution, which was adopted providing for the appointment of a committee of three on each of the following rivers, namely: Carson, Truckee, Walker and Humboldt, to consult the farmers and see if they are willing to fix a price for their water rights at which they would sell them for the district when formed. He said if they refused to sell, nothing effective could be done until the Legislature authorized the condemnation of all existing water rights. He contended that it was essential to the economic use of water that it should be owned by the irrigation districts to be formed in their municipal capacity. He spoke at some length about the agricultural capacity of the State and particularly the opportunity for irrigating by means of the rivers above named; that there was land and water enough on those rivers alone to support from half a million to a million population. He predicted that the water would at some time be properly stored and distributed, and said that it depended upon the people themselves whether it should be done in the immediate future or by the next generation.

As to the resolution asking Congress to donate the lands to the States for irrigation purposes he said he did not take any part in the debate on that subject at Salt Lake City; that if the lands when granted could be properly controlled and administered by the State, they would be of enormous benefit in aid of irrigation; that he would act in the matter in the Senate as the people of Nevada desired; that if they believed they could use the land when granted for legitimate purpose of irrigation and keep them out of the hands of the monopolists, he would cordially work for the grant; that he desired every citizen of Nevada to think the matter over and let him know their general desire, and if the grant was made what restrictions they thought necessary to prevent misuse of the same.

The Sacramento Bee says: We are tired of hearing politicians denounce any coin stamped by this Government, as "a dishonest dollar." The only dishonesty in the matter comes from the shameless rascality of the shysters and their literary Hessians, who depreciate the value of money of the Government to which they owe allegiance, and make of it a means to squeeze more and more from the poor. The dollar is honest enough. The men who make it their tool are the scoundrels.

The Riverside Mill Company have an advertisement in the Enterprise, which they close with, "Please try our Nevada flour." Isn't this a pretty state of affairs when home producers have to beg Nevada people to "please try" flour made in Nevada from Nevada wheat, and the equal of any made in the United States. Most of the people in Nevada are fools enough to send their money to California for flour.

The Board of Equalization has discovered that the Sastro Tunnel Co. do not pay any taxes in this State.
